

Banfi

Dedicated to a finer wine world

Banfi, a family owned wine producer based in Montalcino, Tuscany, is celebrated worldwide as "Builders of Brunello." The Mariani family founded their Castello Banfi vineyard estate in Montalcino in 1978. In so doing, they indissolubly linked Banfi to this terroir and its growth. They assembled a contiguous estate of 2,830 hectares, one third of the property is under specialized vine and the balance is shared between olive groves, wheat fields, plum trees, truffle stands, forest and scrub. Just over a year after, they acquired the historic Piedmontese winery Bruzzone, today known as Banfi Piemonte. Recently Banfi has approached new Tuscan territories, among the most renowned in the region, such as Bolgheri, Maremma, Chianti and Chianti Classico.

Mission

The development of Banfi is strongly linked to the well-being of its employees and the surrounding communities. The group's mission has always been to create outstanding wines that are the maximum expression of the terroir, passion and constant professional development of the Banfi personnel.

Vision

It is our fondest desire that this project will be good for the people of Montalcino, good for Italy, good for America, good for all people who love fine wine". John F. Mariani, 12 September, 1984 dedicating the Banfi winery in Montalcino.

Values

Banfi has developed an integrated process in the regions in which it operates that requires each action to be innovative, socially fair, safe, environmentally sustainable and economically feasible whilst maintaining the values of tradition and outstanding quality.

Cantine Lvnæ

The Union of the Ligurian body and soul

The name Lvnæ was inspired by the name of the town Luni, the ancient Etruscan and Greek port. For four generations, the Bosoni family, has been cultivating vines, producing wine and preserving the culture of the Ligurian region. Lvnæ was created from the sensitivity and passion of Paolo Bossoni for the lands of the Luni hills, the easternmost strip of Liguria. Our terroir is unique and extends from the plains to the South of the River Magra to the Apuane mountains. White marble, olive trees, Mediterranean brush and sea are the distinctive elements and aromas of the area, into which our vineyards blend harmoniously. The range of Lvnæ wines look to promote and intensify the purest essence of the region.

Mission

Each area expresses its "genius loci" through its own nature, this is why Lvnæ looks to cultivate and promote only indigenous and traditional varieties, conscious of the particularities of each variety and the uniqueness of its fruits. Out of respect for the land comes a delicacy for the palate.

Vision

Lvnæ works to establish Lvnæ wine as an expression of quality and reference for regional Ligurian wine making, placing the region firmly on the map of prestigious Italian winemaking regions. Lvnæ also looks to testify the precious quality of the cellars and of our work with the terroir.

Values

For Lvnæ, wine is neither a chemical formula nor a segment for marketing purposes but the result of complicity, interpretations and traditions. For this reason, the winery looks for beauty and quality in the relationship between nature and man, between cognitive knowledge and sensory perception.

Drei Donà

The soul of Sangiovese

The Drei Donà Estate is nestled in the rolling hills on the Predappio DOC area south Forlì in the Emilia Romagna region, the famous food valley of Italy. This is the land where Sangiovese is born and this wine was produced here since Roman and Etruscan times. Since the beginning of the 20th century, the property has belonged to the Drei Donà counts who have made it a family boutique winery that is a pleasant surprise for anybody that comes to know it. This land, and the passion and dedication of the people who love it, have made Drei Donà the only winery in Emilia-Romagna to be asked to join the Comitato dei Grandi Cru d'Italia.

Mission

Some years ago Monica Lerner (Wine Advocate) wrote: "Drei Donà is a landmark estate for the entire Emilia-Romagna region". We keep working to make the wines of Predappio and its terroir at their best, to honour the history and tradition of this little-known jewel of the Italian viticulture.

Vision

A chateau philosophy...combined with our love for Sangiovese! Our wines are already labels of reference as for Sangiovese, but we are happy to know that they can be a precious tool for anyone who wants to really understand the most authentic expression of Sangiovese itself.

Values

Our philosophy is based upon the belief that wines must be the most faithful expression of the terroir they come from. Our respect for our Estate's unique terroir guides all aspects of our production: limited quantities, organic practice, clean solar energy, attention to every detail, selective hand harvesting.

Marchesi di Barolo

Understand to respect

Mission

Marchesi di Barolo has always been a loyal interpreter of the diversity of the area and of the local varieties. The mission of Anna and Ernesto Abbona, accompanied by their children Valentina and Davide, is in fact to marry tradition and evolution, uniting ancient viticultural techniques with forward-thinking food and wine trends of Made in Italy products.

Vision

"Understand to respect", this is the philosophy that guides the process of vinification and maturation of the wines of Marchesi di Barolo. Understanding the area, the grapes, the vines and their history, respecting their unique characteristics and then enhancing them, are the strengths that assist this winery in creating the best quality possible.

Values

A family-run business and the high suitability of the area for vine-growing are the fundamental values of the Piedmontese winery Marchesi di Barolo. Passed down from generation to generation, these principles have been expertly adapted to meet the needs of modern global markets.

The magic of Cantina Marchesi di Barolo started in 1807 during a story of love between Marchese di Barolo and Juliette Colbert de Maulévrier, in the heart of the Langhe area of Piedmont. It was the French marquise that believed in the peculiarities of Nebbiolo, the prestigious variety that was grown in the area. This was the beginning of one of Italy's most prestigious wines: Barolo. In 1929, a century after the creation, Pietro Abbona, filled with passion and dedication for the Barolo vines, purchased the branch of the Tenute Opera Pia Barolo that included over 100 hectares of vineyards in the Langhe area. Today the winery is managed by the fifth generation of the family. The recent purchase of Cascina Bruciata, located in Barbaresco and certified organic since 2015, marked an important moment in the history of the Abbona family. Cascina Bruciata represents everything that the Abbona family stands for: tradition with a firm eye on the future.

This was consolidated by his son Ermete and continued for a further four generations. Today the winery owns 75 hectares of vineyards distributed over the best areas in the region for wine growing. TERRE DE LA CUSTODIA
Azienda Agraria
Vini dall' Umbria

Terre de La Custodia

The secrets of Umbria

A name given to a vineyard is not given purely by chance and Terre de La Custodia is an example of this. Located in the hills of Umbria in central Italy, created during the medieval times of Benedictine monks, the winery's vineyard was initially the result of careful restoration. It then became a habitat for some of the most ancient local grape varieties such as Sagrantino and Grechetto. Within the walls of the region's cloisters, the monks handed down their viticultural know-how to their apprentices, protecting their wines in order to preserve the authenticity and quality to such a point that they called the vineyards "La Custodia" (safekeeping). Today the Terre de la Custodia is the guardian of these ancient Benedictine secrets, making truly authentic wines.

Mission

Vineyards cared for with love and a traditional winery equipped with modern technology are the basis of the wines of Terre de La Custodia. Here, the terroir's generosity meets historical winemaking expertise to create a unique sensory experience that is best shared.

Vision

The winery has always been committed to protecting and passing down the great agricultural expertise that belonged to these parts of Umbria, some of the most ancient farming areas in Italy. Pride in the passion and commitment to winemaking, day after day, nurtures the quality and excellence of the Terre de La Custodia wines.

Values

For centuries, Terre de La Custodia has been harvesting the fruits of this fertile area and, with know-how and passion, transforms them into high quality wines. The revered values of the Umbrian area such as simplicity, authenticity, perseverance, and confidence, are united in the philosophy of production and expressed in the aromatic wines of Terre de La Custodia.

Terredora Di Paolo

Where the excellence of wine
is an ancient family history

Terredora Di Paolo is owned by a family linked tenaciously to a tradition and a specific terroir: Campania, a region that was already known in Greek-Latin times for its indigenous grape varieties. In 1994 at the age of 60 years old Walter Mastroberardino, with the support of his wife Dora Di Paolo, embarked upon a new adventure in the wine business with his children, Paolo, Lucio and Daniela. This was the beginning of Terredora, a winery that works mainly with grapes grown in the family-owned vineyards in Irpinia's most suitable areas for viticulture. The winery is committed to striving for outstanding quality in their wines, result of a harmonious blend between variety, climate and human input.

Mission

Terredora's essence lies in communicating the historical importance of Campania Felix, the indigenous varieties that date from the Greek-Latin era, the vineyards that are carefully selected in the most well-suited parts of Irpinia and of a family that for generations has been dedicated to marrying tradition with innovation.

Vision

Terredora's range of wines show the excellences of Italian wine-making from Campania and should be enjoyed understanding the profound link to the ancient roots of a rich terroir and an authentic family tradition focused on safeguarding ancient grape varieties for future generations.

VALDOBBIADENE

BISOL
 1542

Mission

BISOL1542 has become a reference point for Prosecco Superiore di Valdobbiadene, thanks to the courage and farsightedness of two great wine families, Bisol, the history and passion of the land and Lunelli, a symbol of that art form which is the Italian way of life.

Vision

BISOL1542 encapsulates the purest and most eclectic interpretation of Prosecco Superiore.

Values

The core values are uniqueness and authenticity. Though steeped in history, BISOL1542 with its gaze firmly orientated towards the future, is a reality rooted in the land and yet at once cosmopolitan.

Bisol 1542

From 1542 to the future of Prosecco Superiore

For 5 centuries BISOL1542 have been expressing the very essence of Prosecco Superiore, the most exclusive soul of which, is inseparably linked with the land of its roots: the steep, fascinating and generous rolling hills of Valdobbiadene set between Venice and Cortina. Historical documents testify to the fact that the Bisol family was already cultivating vines in Santo Stefano way back in 1542 and already looking towards the future with the continuity and passion needed to transmit the purest and most profound identity of the denomination without compromise. Eclectically, with the deepest respect for nature and thanks to the possibility of handing down the secrets of heroic viticulture through generation after generation, every bubble marked BISOL1542 represents a particular nuance, an area of land, a style and a Prosecco Superiore DOCG vineyard, in a symphony, a sensorial mosaic all to be discovered, harkened to and savoured.

Gruppo Duca di Salaparuta

Three histories in a single Group

The Duca di Salaparuta Group owns three historic wine brands that represent Sicily and Italy worldwide: Corvo and Duca di Salaparuta, founded in 1824, and Florio, founded in 1833. Today, joined into one Group by the Reina family, together the two companies constitute the largest private wine group in Sicily. They describe the Island's history and land through their suggestive Estates and the historic Marsala and Casteldaccia Wine Cellars, but above all through their wines. Three approaches that share the same passion for their territories and for innovation.

Mission

Every day, Duca di Salaparuta invests in the quest for new and avant-garde solutions that will preserve the natural processes of its vineyards and enhance the unique characteristics of its grape varieties. This quest guarantees first quality wines, which are the perfect expression of their territory of origin.

Vision

Duca di Salaparuta has always focused on building strong brands, sensitive to the demands of the market and capable of meeting the requirements of wine lovers all over the world. A cosmopolitan vision that commences with the care of the vine and develops based on the willingness of the Group to interact with its consumers and satisfy their curiosity.

Values

An epic tale of craftsmanship that has been constantly renewed and updated for the last two centuries. An eye always on the future and a heritage of colours, scents and tastes that we export worldwide.
